

52_Why do most people lose money trading?

Trading is the supreme discipline when investing - both in the stock market and in the crypto business. Many people are lured in by big profits and are then disappointed when they lose a lot of money trading.

Today we present the 4 most common mistakes to avoid if you want to trade successfully:

Knowledge gaps: Many only buy based on trading tips in social media or from acquaintances, but are not involved in the topic themselves

Trading without a strategy

You did not set a stop-loss price when trading. You can lose a lot of money here.

You want to get rich quick, have no patience and panic sell.

You can implement a trading strategy and set stop loss rates relatively quickly. Numbers 4 and 1 are character traits - this requires a little more effort and a mindset shift.

But you can do it and become successful.
