

Wealth Building Components

You have learned a lot about products and strategies for building wealth in the previous videos.

Now it's about implementing them.

What components are there for building up your wealth?
How can you specifically achieve your goal?

In this video, we present three building blocks for building wealth. This applies to both cryptocurrencies and the NFT space.

1. Save regularly.

Ideal for long-term wealth accumulation. Regular purchases allow you to compensate for price fluctuations. For the NFT area, you can also buy NFTs monthly for a certain amount.

2. One-time payments

One-off payments serve as a supplement to regular savings

3. Earn passive income

With crypto products such as staking or lending, you can generate and reinvest passive income. Maybe you already know that from the savings book. Here you could reinvest the interest you received (compound interest effect). The same also works in the crypto area. For the NFT area you can, for example, earn money passively with Play2earn or Move2earn elements. We will go into this separately in the course earn money passively.
