

What is Crypto Trading?

You have probably heard of Crypto Trading before. It's been very trending since 2021, but what is crypto trading anyway?

Crypto trading can be compared to stock trading.

"Crypto trading refers to trading - i.e. buying and selling - with and investing in cryptocurrencies."

There must always be a buyer and a seller for the deal to happen!

The difference between the purchase and sale price is then your profit!

You will always find your counterpart in the large cryptocurrencies with high trading volumes such as Bitcoin or Ethereum. The exchange automatically matches buyers and sellers.

Especially on small exchanges with little trading volume or coins that are not traded a lot, you have the risk that you cannot sell your purchased coins or can only sell them at a bad price.

It is therefore important that you are well informed before you decide on a cryptocurrency that you want to buy.