

wallets

One of the most important topics in the cryptocurrency and NFT space is the custody of your assets. This is done in the Web3 area on so-called wallets.

There are different types and possible uses, which we would like to introduce to you in this course.

The issue of safety is a top priority here. In the Web3 applies - not your key, not your coins.

Large amounts of assets should always be held on so-called cold wallets such as ledgers, where you have direct access to your assets at all times.