

Trading

You will be able to trade on every crypto exchange. This means you can buy, sell or send cryptocurrencies at any time.

Features:

- You can trade 24/7

Since crypto exchanges do not have opening hours, you can trade 24/7, 365 days a year

- There are around 14000 cryptocurrencies

Depending on the exchange, you can choose from different cryptocurrencies that you want to trade. There are exchanges that offer 10 currencies and there are bad guys that offer over 500 currencies.

- Attention costs

Every transaction incurs costs. In particular, buying cryptocurrencies with a credit card is very expensive and can be up to 2%. Transfers are often carried out for a flat rate of 1 euro and are therefore much cheaper. The same applies to transactions. Every purchase and sale also incurs fees, which vary depending on the exchange.

- Keep an eye on the market

The crypto market is characterized by strong fluctuations. Always keep an eye on the market

Important note: If it is not possible for you to send cryptocurrencies to another wallet, then you have probably not opened an account with a crypto exchange but with a crypto broker. You should check this in any case.
