Make money on Web3 - Introduction

The Web3 is still a completely new area for many of us, which will bring us strong changes.

This is the chance for each of us to actively help shape it. There are many ways to earn money actively and passively, whether as a private individual, investor or as an entrepreneur who is self-employed.

We have summarized all these possibilities in this course and give you examples and concrete implementation options.

The Web3 area is very fast-moving and so this course is also being expanded monthly when there are new opportunities to earn money on the Web3.
